

AQR Style Premia Trust

Fact Sheet

Investment Objective

The investment objective of AQR Style Premia Trust (the “Fund”) is to seek to produce positive risk-adjusted returns, while targeting a low correlation to traditional markets, through applying a systematic investment process to four well known investment styles: Value, Momentum, Carry and Defensive (the “Investment Styles”).

Investment Approach

To pursue its investment objective, the Fund, through its investment in AQR Style Premia Master Account, L.P. (the “Master Fund”), will implement each of the Investment Styles to invest globally, both long and short, across the following asset groups: stocks and industries, equity indices, fixed income, commodities and currencies. A “long” position will benefit from an increase in price of the asset, while a “short” position will benefit from a decrease in price of the asset. The Fund will seek to achieve returns in excess of the Bloomberg AusBond Bank Bill Index.

The Style Premia Perspective

Value	The tendency for relatively cheap assets to outperform relatively expensive ones
Momentum	The tendency for an asset’s recent relative performance to continue in the near future
Carry	The tendency for higher-yielding assets to provide higher returns than lower-yielding assets
Defensive	The tendency for lower risk and higher-quality assets to generate higher risk-adjusted returns

Company Profile and Investment Philosophy

AQR is a global investment management firm dedicated to delivering results for our clients. At the nexus of economics, behavioral finance, data and technology, AQR's evolution over two decades has been a continuous exploration of what drives markets and how it can be applied to client portfolios. The firm is headquartered in Greenwich, Connecticut, with offices in Bangalore, Frankfurt, Hong Kong, London and Sydney.

We believe asset allocation should be predicated around risk appetite, not capital. Risk diversification can help provide a more consistent level of realized portfolio volatility and does not emphasize any one asset class over another. To implement that approach, we construct diversified portfolios that adhere to appropriate risk parameters and levels. Our investment strategies are built on solid economic principles, not simply to fit the past, and contain as much common sense as empirical evidence.

Investments are subject to investment risk, including possible delays in repayment and loss of income and principal invested. The fund has exposure to the gains and losses of commodities, futures, options, derivatives and other financial instruments. There is a risk of substantial loss associated with trading commodities, futures, options, derivatives and other financial instruments. Before trading, investors should carefully consider their financial position and risk tolerance to determine if the proposed trading style is appropriate. Investors should realize that when trading futures, commodities, options, derivatives and other financial instruments one could lose the full amount of their investment in the Fund. All funds committed to such a trading strategy should be purely risk capital.

Diversification does not eliminate the risk of experiencing investment losses.

There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved or that the Fund will provide any particular rate of return. AQR makes no guarantee that the strategy it employs on behalf of the Fund will remain as above, that any component of the above strategy will not be discontinued or that the strategy's goals will not change over time.

As at the date of the Fund's PDS, tobacco companies and certain controversial weapons investments are currently screened from the Master Fund's investment universe. AQR will determine which issuers meet such criteria according to its internal methodology, which is currently based in part on the GICS sub industry code (for tobacco companies) and on MSCI Controversial Weapons research (for controversial weapons investments).
